

Employment guide

When you take on a nanny you become an employer and as such are responsible for fulfilling normal employment responsibilities.

Our guide to employment will help you ensure that you have completed all of the required obligations.

Please use the menu above to scroll through the employment guide for any information you require. If you can't find the answer to your question contact KiwiOz and we will be happy to help.